(1) There shall be a five-year abatement of one hundred percent of city real estate taxes attributable to qualified improvements for any commercial property which:

a. (2) There shall be a ten-year abatement of city real estate taxes attributable to qualified improvements for any market-rate multi-family residential or market-rate mixed-use property which is located:

- a. Within the area bounded by beginning on the southerly of the Brandywine River at its intersection with the westerly side of Washington Street, along the westerly side of Washington Street, then southward along Washington Street to its intersection with the Amtrak railroad line, then eastward along the Amtrak railroad line to its intersection with the easterly side of Walnut Street, and north along the easterly side of Walnut Street to the Brandywine River, and westerly along the Brandywine River to its intersection with the westerly side of Washington Street; reduced by twenty percent in each year beginning at one hundred percent in year seven until the abatement is fully eliminated at year eleven.

- (e) Conversion of commercial properties to market-rate multi-family residential or market-rate mixed-use properties. There shall be a five-year abatement of one hundred percent of city real estate taxes attributable to qualified improvements or substantial improvements for any commercial property that is converted to a market-rate multi-family residential or market-rate mixed-use property within the geographical area bounded by beginning on the southerly of the Brandywine River at its intersection with the westerly side of Washington Street, along the westerly side of Washington Street, then southward along Washington Street to its intersection with the Amtrak railroad line, then eastward along the Amtrak railroad line to its intersection with the easterly side of Walnut Street, and north along the easterly side of Walnut Street to the Brandywine River, and westerly along the Brandywine River to its intersection with the westerly side of Washington Street. The investment shall be calculated as follows: the value of the building permit issued for the substantial improvement divided by the total square footage of the market-rate multi-family residential or market-rate mixed-use property.
- (f) Zoning. The tax abatements in this section shall only apply when the qualified improvements or substantial improvements are for uses that are permitted as a matter of right for the property's zoning classification pursuant to chapter 48 of the city code.

The tax incentive program authorized by the provisions of this section shall be administered in accordance with the code's tax exemption provisions specifically regarding "effect of unpaid taxes, water and sewer charges and other fees or assessments," "effect of county reassessment," and "application for exemption from taxation of real property" in sections 44-53 through 44-56 of this chapter.

(2) Maps illustrating the areas included in the commercial, residential and mixed-use tax abatement programs of section 44-71 shall be maintained and kept on file in the city clerk's office and in the office of economic development.

SYNOPSIS: This Ordinance amends Section 44-71 of the City Code regarding the City's real estate tax exemption program to create a new real estate tax exemption program. There are several components to the City's new real estate tax exemption program as follows. First, there will be a five-year tax abatement of one hundred percent of City real estate taxes attributable to qualified improvements of existing commercial properties or created by new construction of commercial properties in certain areas. The abatement for commercial properties will not apply to residential properties held for investment purposes. Second, there will be a five-year tax abatement of one hundred percent of City real estate taxes attributable to qualified improvements of existing residential and mixed-use properties or created by new construction of residential and mixed-use properties in certain areas identified by the 2015 Market Value Analysis of the City of Wilmington performed by the Reinvestment Fund. Third, there will be a ten-year tax abatement of City real estate taxes for qualified improvements of existing market-rate multi-family residential and market-use mixed-use properties or created by new construction of market-rate multi-family residential and market-rate mixed-use properties located in certain areas. The tax abatement for the first five years will be one hundred percent of City real estate taxes attributable to the qualified improvements, and the tax abatement for the second five years will be graduated and will be reduced by twenty percent per year. Fourth, there will be a five-year tax abatement of one hundred percent of City real estate taxes attributable to qualified improvements or substantial improvements for commercial properties that are converted to market-rate multi-family residential or market-rate mixed-use properties in certain areas. With respect to each of the tax abatements, such abatement resides with the property for the duration of the abatement regardless of ownership. Finally, this Ordinance extends the City's prior real estate tax exemption program, which expired on June 30, 2018, from July 1, 2018 until the effective date of the City's new real estate tax exemption program.

FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT: Projects approved under this Ordinance, other than projects approved under subsection (e), will not negatively impact City revenues from existing real estate taxes during the abatement period because the abatement will only apply to qualified improvements. Approved projects will result in: (i) additional permitting revenues and wage taxes associated with the qualified improvements and (ii) an increase in new City real estate taxes after the expiration of the abatement. Projects approved under subsection (e) of this Ordinance will result in a temporary reduction of existing real estate tax revenue for the duration of the abatement period. These temporary reductions in real estate tax revenue will be offset by additional permitting revenues from the improvements, plus new wage taxes generated from the increased occupancy of the new market-rate multi-family residential or mixed-use property.
